Beaver Will Play Indians.

A team of Cheyenne-Arapaho Indians will play ball with Beaver here Saturday and Sunday, May 20th and 21st. These men are real Red Skins from the Indian reservation.

Mrs. B. O. Taylor and family are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Taylor's sister and her husband, who arrived last week from Kansas City, Missouri.

Mrs. Mattie Flinn and little daughter left the first of the week for Missouri, where they will spend the summer with relatives and friends.

BAPTISTS ARE BUILDING

A TABERNACLE.

On March 26th, Rev. Oates Hamblen, of Forgan, organized the Baptist people of Beaver into a church, and since that time services have been held in the Court House and the numbers have been growing rapidly. We are informed this week that they have secured the services of Evangelist J. L. Bandy and Prof. F. H. Poulter, of Wichita, Kansas, two of the most able men in the middle west, to assist the pastor in a series of meetings to commence here May 24th. A tabernacle, 30x70, is being constructed this week just south of the K. of P. Hall, for these meetings. Plans are now under way for the early erection of a permanent church home, which will probably be built immediately after the close of the meetings. They ask the hearty cooperation of all the Christian people of Beaver to make this one of the greatest meetings that has ever been held in this town or community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Batterson, of Lawrence, Kas., who have been visiting Mrs. Batterson's parents, J. W. Hale and wife, south of town, departed Friday for their home. They were accompanied by Mrs. Hale, who has been in ill health for some time, and who is making the trip in the hope of receiving benefit. She will remain for some time, visiting Mrs. Batterson and other children in the vicinity of Lawrence.

Word Mann and family, of Six Mile, left Thursday for Michigan, where they will spend the summer visiting among friends and relatives. Elbert Clift drove them over to Liberal, Kansas, in his Ford. Uncle David Miller also accompanied them, going as far as Chicago, where he will spend the summer.

E. H. Carleton is transacting business in the eastern part of the State. While away he will visit his parents and other relatives at Shawnee.

A GOOD TIME TO CLEAN UP.

Now that the high April winds are over and the weather bids fair to be more pleasant, why would it not be a good time for Beaver citizens to observe a general Clean Up Day. Our streets and alleys, and too many of our door yards, are unsightly on account of loose paper, tin cans and other rubbish, and are an eye sore to all who have to look upon them. Our town is going forward with leaps and bounds, and we are all proud of the advancement that is being made, so why not have a little civic pride and make Beaver a Clean Town, as well as a busy one? It would not require a great amount of work on the part of all our citizens to place the town on the Spotless list and the favorable impression which it would make on strangers visiting Beaver would be enough to repay us for all the labor it would require. A day or two's work would clean up every street and alley, then a little individual work on the part of property owners in repairing fences and out-buildings, painting and otherwise improving broken down and tumbled down buildings about their premises, would make a new Beaver of the old town. The Herald has spoken of this matter often before, but we have been unable, so far, to start anything along that line. Why not have a general Clean Up campaign? Such an effort would be a noble and worthy one for one of the various ladies' clubs to promote? Which club will take it up and thereby win for themselves the everlasting esteem and appreciation of the clean town loving people? We are this week running a page of advertising for live, wide-awake business people of Beaver who believe in a clean town and who would be glad, we are sure, to assist in any move toward a Clean Up campaign. THE HERALD is ready and anxious to do our share. Who will start the ball to rolling?

BIG RAIN SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Beaver county was visited by a big general rain Saturday afternoon. The precipitation at this point registered 1.43 inches according to the Government gauge. Reports from other parts of the county are to the effect that the rainfall was general. The rain did not come before it was needed. In some sections wheat was beginning to show the effects of the continued dry spell, but with the big rain Saturday everything now presents a different aspect. Farmers are feeling jubilant, and are busy every minute getting in their row crops. Prospects were never better, and it looks like this portion of the moral vineyard was going to be blessed with another bountiful harvest. The immense crops the past two years have certainly put Beaver county on the map. With another such harvest as is most promising at this time, we will certainly make the other states sit up and take notice. What's the matter old Beaver County.

STRONG FOR PREPAREDNESS.

We are strong for preparedness in this shop. If you don't believe us, come in and let us prove it to you. We are prepared at all times to take care of your orders for printing and advertising, and deliver the goods promptly and in an accurate and workmanlike manner. We are also prepared to receive money on account at any hour of the day or night, six days in the week, and, if that is not sufficient, phone 80 and we'll come down Sunday and take your orders for advertising or printing, or receipt your account. If that isn't preparedness, what is it?

Yes, we went fishin'. No, we didn't catch any fish. Did we get caught in the rain? Sure did. Walkin' was never better. Nuff said.

E. C. Savoy, of lower Clear Creek, is being initiated into the mysteries of motordom at this time having recently acquired a new Oakland Six.

NEXT DOOR TO NEW FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING

LIBERAL, KANSAS

Billy Stafford is having a two-story building erected this week on his lot just south of Jones's pool hall, which, when completed, will be occupied by E. E. McPherson, who will put in a grocery. The second floor will be used for living purposes by the family.

C. E. Taskett opened up their ice cream parlor and cold drink fountain at the White House to the public last Thursday. They enjoyed a record patronage the first day, serving all comers free as an advertisement.

H. P. Garrett returned the latter part of last week from Tulsa and Oklahoma City. He attended the K. of P. convention at Tulsa, and returned via Oklahoma City to look after business matters.

J. E. Spurrier and wife returned the latter part of last week from Tulsa, Sapulpa, and other points in the eastern half of the State, where they had been visiting and looking after business matters. They also attended the K. of P. convention at Tulsa while away.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

CITIZENS' MASS MEETING

DEMANDS IMMEDIATE ACTION.

During the past week two sales companies, one calling themselves the "Eastern Sample Sales Company" and the other the "Western Sales Company," drifted into Beaver with a stock of clothing and conducted a few days sale. They gathered in as many dollars as they could glean, and like the Arab, "folded their tent and silently stole away," leaving the home merchants to keep up the taxes, support the schools and churches and subscribe to other public benefits, while the "Sales Companies" go on from town to town, paying little or nothing and taking trade away from legitimate business men. Some action should be taken, and that at once, to make this class of traveling dealers pay their share toward the support of the town, or shut them out. A good stiff city ordinance regulating such traffic should be passed.

FEINBURG'S NEW STORE OPENS

SATURDAY, MAY 27TH.

On Saturday, May 27th, the people of Beaver and vicinity will have an opportunity to visit the largest and most complete men's and boys' store in Beaver county. Feinberg's big new store in the Long & Lawson building will open that day. This store was to have opened April 20th, but on account of unforeseen conditions arising and material for the building being delayed, it was necessary to delay the opening for over a month.

M. Feinberg and his buyer, Chas. Hyman, have arrived in the city to superintend the opening of their new store here. Ben Cooper is also here, and will be retained as local manager. The store will carry a complete stock of men's and boy's clothing, shoes, hats and furnishings. Beaver welcomes this big new store, and extends its best wishes for their success.

Any Beaverites who might have been trying to stick on the "water wagon" had an excellent opportunity to slide off last Friday. A broken axle caused the street sprinkler wagon to upset that day at the corner of Second and Douglas. The driver had a narrow escape from being caught beneath the wagon as it fell, but fortunately was thrown clear. No serious damage was done.

H. G. Wagner and family were up from Logan Tuesday trading with Beaver merchants. While here they called at this office and had their name enrolled on our Big Book.

A car load of blacksmithing coal was received this week by the Probst Grain Company. This is the first carload of such coal ever shipped to this section. Heretofore those needing blacksmith coal were obliged to buy it at Wichita, Kansas, and freight it in locally, which made it cost about double the price it may be bought for now. This is one more instance of the benefits which the new order of things in Beaver since the building of the railroad is bringing us. There are many like instances.

C. E. Beebe, of Six Mile, lost 2 cows and a calf by lightning during the storm Saturday afternoon.
